Dear Parents/Carers,

We are thrilled to announce that Mr Jacob Woolcock has been accepted onto the prestigious Apple Distinguished Educators programme.

In 1994, Apple created the ADE Program to recognise education pioneers who are using Apple technology to transform teaching and learning in powerful ways. Celebrating 25 years, the program has grown into a worldwide community of over 2,800 visionary and innovative leaders in education, helping other educators rethink what is possible with iPad and Mac. You can learn more about the contributions of ADEs worldwide at www.apple.com/education/ade/.

Mr Woolcock is one of only thirty teachers from across the UK accepted into the programme this year. This impressive achievement is testament to his innovative and creative use of technology with our children at Penpol. Being a part of the programme will allow us as a school to access a huge network of further development and collaboration opportunities and we cannot wait to get started.

Congratulations Mr Woolcock!

Best wishes,

Chris Chislett
Headteacher
