Dear Parents and Carers,

Following our long-awaited inspection at the end of April, we are delighted to share our Ofsted report with you today.

As you'll see from the opening paragraph below, this is a hugely positive document which celebrates many of the factors that make Penpol such a unique and special place.

Pupils love attending this friendly and welcoming school. The values of respect, honesty, friendship, creativity, resilience and integrity help pupils to become active citizens within their school community. Pupils show a strong understanding of equality and the protected characteristics. They value and celebrate difference. Staff build warm and caring relationships with pupils that help them to feel safe.

Thank you all, once again, for responding so positively to our Parent View survey and for your active engagement as members of our school community. I'd also like to thank our incredible staff, excellent governors and 'exemplary' pupils for all they do at school each day. This is a report for the whole community to be very proud of.

As you know, we are school that never stands still. The next steps identified by Ofsted are very much in-sync with the areas we are currently working on. We also invite more regular scrutiny in the form of Challenge Partners Quality Assurance Reviews. If you've not seen it yet, our recent Challenge Partners report is well worth a read and can be found here: www.penpolschool.co.uk/challenge-partners/.

Best wishes,

Chris Chislett (he/him)
