THIS WEEK

Your children continue to amaze us every week! We have started the Team for Change with gusto! They are a really committed team and have already suggested lots of ideas for the coming year. They will be joining the Crofty Warriors at points during the year. At these meetings, they will meet children from other Crofty schools and work together to improve our commitment to climate change in the local area. I look forward to being part of a larger team and watching the children flourish in a new forum.

PENPOL NURSERY

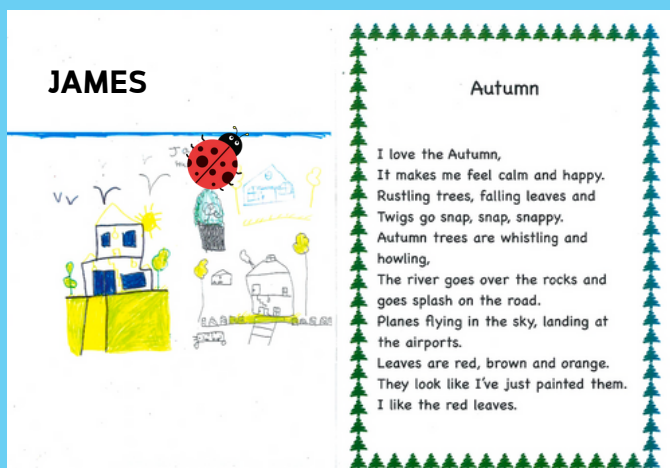

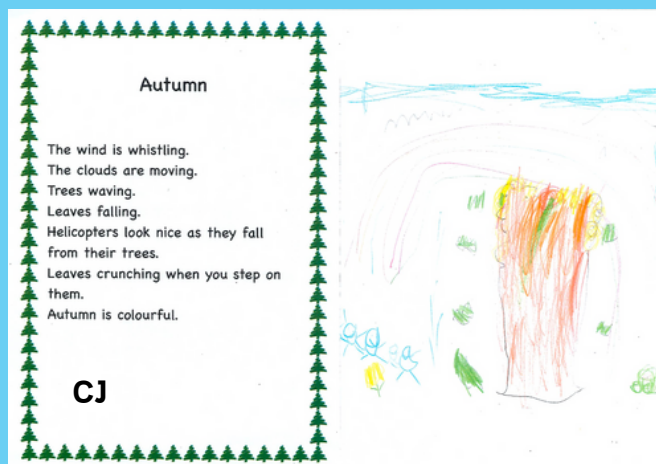

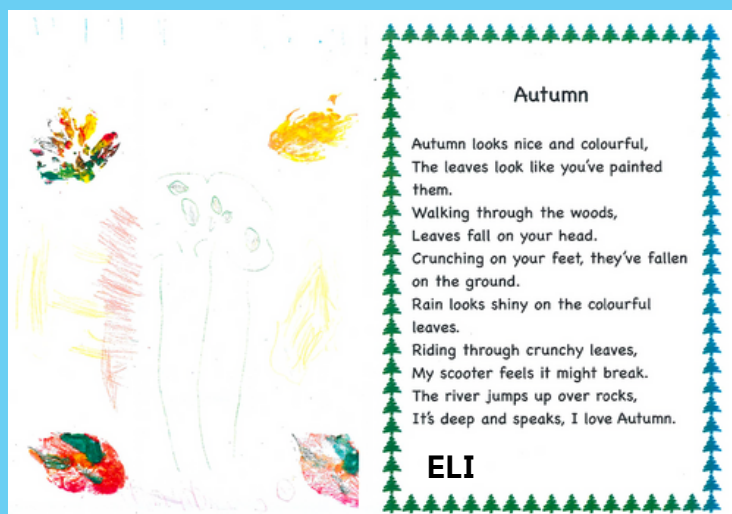

The Nursery parents were invited to a celebration of all things spooky this week. They took part in lots of activities with their children. We love to learn along with parents, families and their children, promoting fun play opportunities. What a wonderful time they had!

The children in our Nurture provision have been learning about the wonders of Autumn. They have had first-hand experience of being out and about, creating wonderful artwork and these inspiring poems.

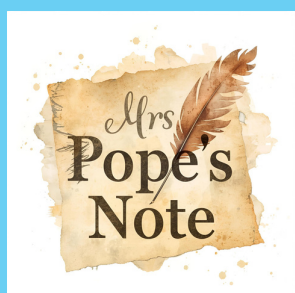

Year 6's were learning all about being part of the Police Force this week. The Mini-Police programme is part of an initiative to support young people to understand the role of the Police and also how they can be positive role models in the local community.

Year 5 have been enjoying sessions delivered by the "Feeling Good" project. This focus on positivity in mind and body. Where was my invite?!!

IT IS BAG 2 SCHOOL DAY ON TUESDAY 4TH NOV. PLEASE HAVE A SORT THROUGH AS EVERY BAG RAISES MONEY FOR THE SCHOOL :)

As we move fully into Autumn, although on these sunny days you'd hardly guess, it is important that children come to school ready for those more chilly playtime days. We will continue to use the field as much as possible. So, if you child plans to play football as long as possible, please make sure they bring outdoor clothes suitable for getting a bit muddy and everyone needs a warm coat. There is nothing worse than trying to learn in the afternoons with cold fingers and feeling chilly from the inside out! We appreciate your support as always with everything we do.
